

ENSCAPE CONTENT CONTRIBUTION GUIDELINES

Our mission is to publish high-quality, inspiring, and educational content to architectural, engineering, and construction professionals, students, and academics.

Please take a moment to review our guidelines if you're preparing a blog post, sharing visual content, participating in a webinar, submitting a quote, or featuring in a customer success story.

THE NOT-SO-FINE PRINT

- A content contributor refers to an individual who submits a blog post, shares visual content, participates in a webinar, or features in a customer success story.
- Content refers to but is not limited to the following: a blog post, visual content, webinar presentation, customer success story content, and quote or testimonial.

GUIDELINES

- Content submitted to Enscape must be your own, original work.
- When quoting others, please ensure to cite your source.
- You must have the appropriate permissions to use any images or videos relating to your work and grant Enscape the rights to publish these materials on the Enscape website and promote them via email, social media, and any other outlet as appropriate.
- The Enscape marketing team reserves the right to edit and adapt your content as we see fit and update it in the future for accuracy and comprehensiveness.
- Enscape has the right to re-use and repurpose the content for other marketing activities.
- Any compilation, collective, or derivative work created by Enscape containing your contributed content is the sole proprietary of Enscape.
- Enscape reserves the right to remove content without notifying the author, creator, or owner.

By contributing content, you agree that you have read and understood the above guidelines and agree to be bound by them. If you have any questions, please get in touch with marketing@enscape3d.com.
